Coherence and Capacity Building

AWSA has identified six “core pillars” that are the focus of our professional learning opportunities. AWSA maintains these pillars by regularly reviewing: administrative standards, research on high-impact leadership practices, and member input.

These pillars include:

- Learning Leadership
- Data Use and Performance Management
- Collaborative Professional Culture
- Operations Management
- Communications and Community Engagement
- Professionalism and Advocacy

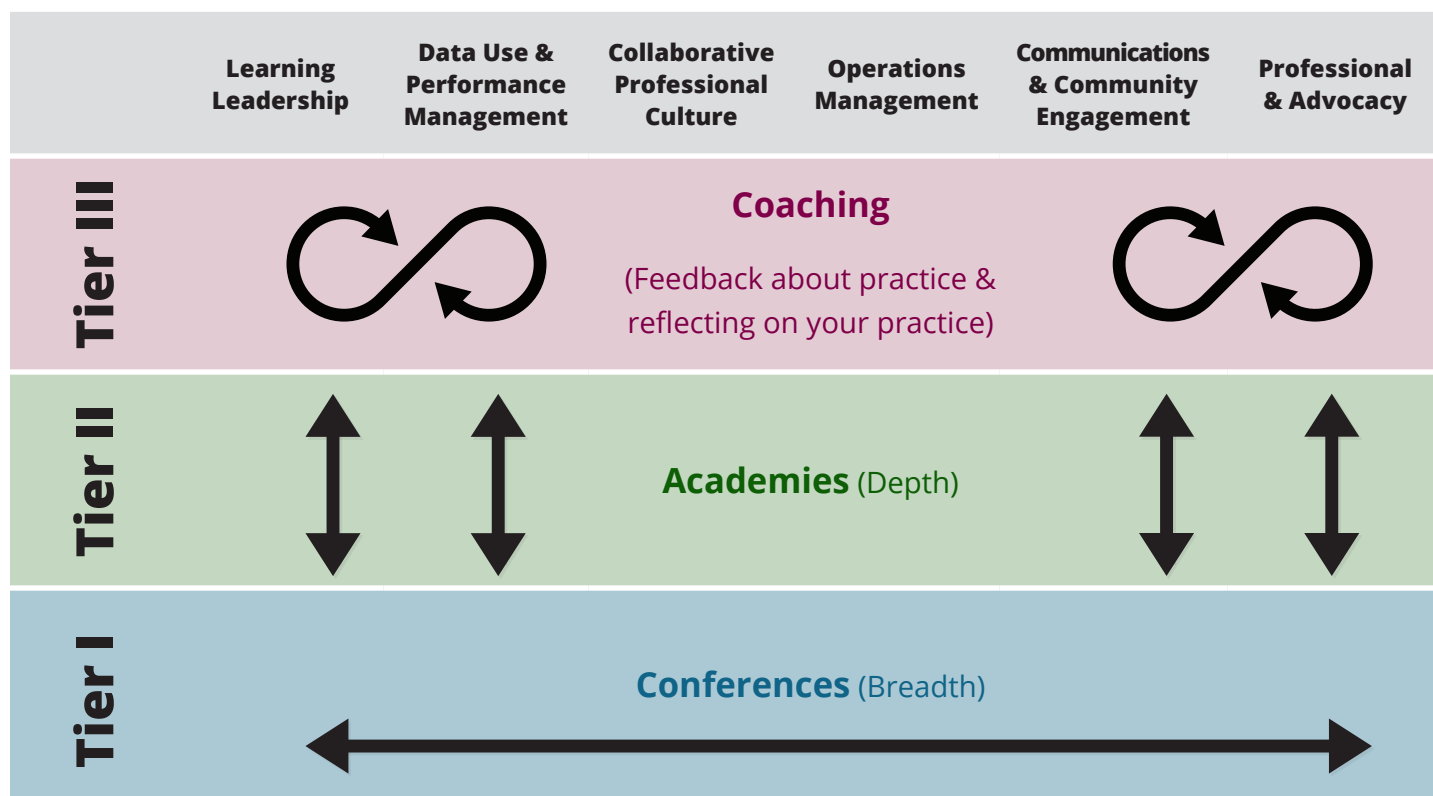

Capacity Building: Three Tiers of Professional Learning

AWSA provides tiered opportunities to meet school leaders’ full range of learning needs:

Tier I - “Conferences” provide professional learning, information and networking opportunities across the administrator standards (breadth).

Tier II - “Academies” provide focused training on targeted pillars and related high-leverage practices and competencies for leaders (depth).

Tier III - “Coaching” to further equip leaders with tools and strategies to lead effectively.

For questions about accessibility or to request special assistance during any of our events, please contact Kathy Gilbertson at kathy@awsa.org. Three weeks advance notice is required to allow us to provide seamless access. If you need to cancel the special request, this must be done at least 3 working days prior to the start of the event. See registration cancellation policy on the event’s web page for how to cancel your conference registration.

Grade Level Conventions

Grade Level Conventions are designed by AWSA advisory committee members who know what building administrators face “in the trenches” each and every day. These conventions deal with the specific issues of each grade level population.

Each convention provides valuable time for networking with colleagues about current issues.

Managing to Lead

August 1, 2023 Ingleside Hotel, Pewaukee

August 15, 2023 Holiday Inn, Stevens Point

Which Academy Is Right For Me?

AWSA Academies

Over time at AWSA, we have developed a number of academies that provide a depth of learning and growth for education leaders in the most complex areas of the work. Each of these academies involves a series of sessions designed to help participants engage deeply in their learning, with enough opportunity to apply and integrate what they are learning throughout the series so that such efforts can meaningfully take hold in local leadership action.

Given many leadership demands, choosing the most appropriate route for deep learning and support can often present considerable challenges. We have designed the following table to help leaders think through their greatest local needs and then consider the AWSA academy that would best address that need.

If your identified need is __,	Then consider the __.
A) Gaining support and coaching as an administrator in your first year of service.	Launching Academy
B) Shifting from surviving as an administrator to thriving as an effective and balanced learning leader who is developing a learning organization.	Building Academy
C) Promoting self-actualization of experienced learning leaders to ensure schools of equity and excellence that leave a lasting legacy.	Mastering Academy
D) Enhancing continuous improvement cycle impact on deep-seated problems of practice, for experienced administrators who have worked through other AWSA career-based academies. (The three academies above.)	Mastering Academy - Deepening Impact NEW in 2023-24!
E) Implementing or sustaining professional learning communities as a means to ensure high levels of student achievement and engagement.	Leading Professional Learning Communities
F) Improving literacy practices in your building and creating systems to ensure the success of all students.	Leading Literacy Academy
G) Developing the capacity to provide coaching and feedback that is aligned to high expectations, standards, and research-based effective instructional practices.	Impactful Coaching Academy: Advancing Your Skills
H) Supporting building leaders to reflect on their impact utilizing a continuous improvement mindset.	Supporting Principal Excellence
I) Improving school/community mental health through a systems approach.	Comprehensive School Mental Health Academy
J) Building focus and coherence of your system's continuous improvement agenda into related short-term cycles of intentional action and progress monitoring.	School Administrators Institute for Transformational Leadership (SAIL)

Due to the incredibly busy nature of the work, it is very easy for an administrator to be a principal who “runs a school” without ever becoming a learning leader who is developing a learning organization. And that’s concerning because our schools and communities need not just building managers, but learning leaders (those who are able to cultivate the culture and systems of a learning organization over time) if we are to significantly make headway on our commitment to the success and well-being of every student under our care.

In response, the Building Academy (formerly Building Effective Leadership) is focused on not just helping a leader survive in the role, but rather thrive as an effective and balanced learning leader who is developing a learning organization. Essentially, the purpose of the Building Academy is to help educational leaders become better versions of themselves so that schools get the learning leaders they need.

Building Academy (formerly Building Effective Leadership/BEL)

What Past Participants Have Said About Building Academy:

- Through my participation in this Academy, I feel that I am more energized and purposeful in my role as a building leader. Mastering Academy (formerly Mastering Leadership Academy/MLA)

MASTERING

The overarching goal for the Mastering Academy (formerly Mastering Leadership Academy) is to promote the self-actualization of experienced learning leaders through the continuous growth of themselves and their learning organizations to ensure schools of equity and excellence.

We first launched the Mastering Leadership Academy (MLA) in 2021-22 and received incredibly positive feedback.

100% of participants surveyed replying either “excellent” or “strongly agree” to the following survey topics:

1. The overall quality / helpfulness of MLA resources
2. The overall quality of workshop facilitation
3. The opportunity to network and learn with other colleagues
4. The degree to which participants were able to deepen understanding and means for strategic data gathering in relation to a local equity-based Problem of Practice
5. The overall quality of the Mastering Academy sessions
6. Willingness to recommend the Mastering Academy to other school leaders interested in deepening their impact on all students they serve.

In the initial 2021-22 school year, the Mastering Academy was only offered by invitation to Wisconsin leaders identified by the Wisconsin Center for Educational Research (WCER) as among Wisconsin’s most impactful principals due to the exemplary growth, gap closing, and/or achievement they had been able to lead and sustain over several years for students in their schools. Moving forward, input from our AWSA leadership commissions encouraged us to open this opportunity to all principals who possess the foundational skills from which to build.

Therefore, we are once again pleased to now offer the Mastering Academy to those highly dedicated school leaders who either are identified by the WCER through multi-year student results as one of Wisconsin’s most impactful principals or who strive to accomplish such results for all learners through prior participation in either the Building Academy (formerly Building Effective Leadership) or SAIL Academy. The Mastering Academy will build upon the foundation of learning leader knowledge and skills derived from these previous experiences.

Learning Objectives:

1. Learn and leverage the wisdom in the group to inform and assist leaders in addressing their biggest equity-based problem(s) of practice.
2. Utilize protocols that address relevant problems of practice and strategies for creating conditions and building capacity among all stakeholders.
3. Explore the systemization of cycles of inquiry around culture, systems, and learning to exhibit self-actualized leadership.
4. Learn how to unpack the School Leader Paradigm at the Dimension and Strategy levels to deepen understanding of masterful leadership and identify next edges of growth.

Leading Objectives:

1. Network with other learning leaders in a collaborative cycle of inquiry that addresses a deep-seated problem of practice in our field.
2. Advocate effectively, both locally and broadly, to gain support for continuous school improvement efforts that build equitable opportunities for all students.
3. Contribute to one or more PLN (Professional Learning Network) as a thought leader in an area of professional passion/expertise.
4. Deepen leadership legacy by mentoring/ coaching one or more school leaders in their transformation journey.

Every week AWSA brings you the Marshall Memo. Published since 2003, it is designed to keep principals and other educators well-informed on current research and best practices in the field. Kim Marshall, drawing on his experience as a teacher, principal, central office administrator, consultant, and writer, lightens the load of busy educators by serving as their "designated reader."

To produce the Marshall Memo, Kim subscribes to 44 carefully-chosen publications and looks through scores of articles each week to select 5-10 that have the greatest potential to improve teaching, leadership, and learning. He then writes a brief summary of each article, provides links to full articles when available, and highlights a few striking quotes.

Communication Support

Effective school leaders engage stakeholders in meaningful ways to promote student success. The following resources support you in this important work.

Crisis Communications

One of the most important aspects of dealing with a crisis is knowing what to communicate, along with to whom and how. With this in mind, the Donovan Group, an education-focused communications firm, provides crisis communications support to AWSA members.

The AWSA website includes information related to contacting the Donovan Group and comprehensive resources for communicating in crisis situations.

Communication Tools

Are you maximizing your website, social media and other communications tools to engage key stakeholders in support of your students? AWSA provides communication tools to help you assess your communication strengths and help identify areas of growth.

We will provide you with information about how to improve your communications efforts, consider current communications practices, and select the tools needed to help make the effort easier.
